

In this four-part webinar series, participants will write a case report suitable for publication. Each session will include a didactic component covering effective strategies for producing a publishable report. During the workshop portion, time will be set aside for writing and, for the brave, for learning how to critique one's own work.

The planned syllabus is as follows:

Part 1: Principles of Effective Case Writing

Tuesday 23 September 2025

- Introduction to this webinar series
- Problem solving with the CARE checklist and ORCID
- Presenting our template for case reports
- Corpus linguistics in biomedical writing
- Your report title
- Your report background/introduction section

Part 2: Your Case Presentation

Tuesday 7 October 2025

- Telling your patient's story – active versus passive voice, conjuncts and other considerations
- Patient History
- Physical Examination
- Imaging
- Treatment (and response)
- Adding tables, graphs and photos

Part 3: Your Discussion and Conclusion

Tuesday 21 October 2025

- What to discuss and how to discuss it – hyperbole versus hedging
- Limitations
- A Summary or Conclusion
- References

Part 4: The Publication Process

Tuesday 11 November 2025

- Picking a journal
- Your cover letter to the editor
- Your response to the reviewers